

Disclosure of Relevant Financial Relationships for Planners of CME Activities

CME activities are conducted in the public interest. Therefore, it is important to assure the public that education received by physicians, through whom patient care decisions are made, is conducted with the highest integrity, scientific objectivity and the absence of bias. All individuals in a position to control content (“planners”) of FSP-provided activities are expected to disclose to the FSP any relevant financial relationships with any commercial interest that produces, markets, re-sells or distributes health care goods or services consumed by or used on patients that has a direct bearing on the subject matter of the CME activity in which they are involved.
